

Always And Forevermore

Everybody will make sacrifices
Everybody will say their last goodbyes
Happiness is lying in the past
Now the war... has begun

Casualties will fade away... like spirits... like angels... like memories
Former freedom lingers
As we all stand as one

A reminder of joy protects us
They're the soldiers of the frontline
The dreams that twist and toil through your head

Rainbows will be painted
We will overcome this war
We will stay safe
Always and forevermore...
