

Lockdown

*As I knocked on the door,
Silence I was answered with.
As I stepped inside,
The door was slammed in my face.*

*As I looked around,
I was paralysed at bubbles.
As I ran through the park,
There was no child's laughter.*

*As I looked in the hospital,
The NHS drove me back.
As I spread fear,
They brought hope bubbling to the surface.*

*As I started to retreat,
They brought rainbows to the people.
As I hid in the shadows,
They found me.*
