

Lockdown

There will be casualties,
There will be pain,
But we will not go down in vain.
We will all have to make sacrifices,
But we will pull through even if we are alone.
We are all in battle,
But we will overcome this time of devastation,
And after all this we will look back on the tough times
And we will smile and hug and tell stories of those times,
Because together we thrive.

By Sam